

We can but should we?

The Ethics of Human Enhancement and Biotechnology

Friday, Oct. 27

Omni William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, PA | 8 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Join us as we explore the ethical considerations behind the new ways advanced medical technologies enable us to build a better human.

DISCUSSION LEADERS

Allen Buchanan, PhD

Laureate Professor of Philosophy,
University of Arizona

Emeritus Professor of Philosophy and Law, Duke University

Keisha Ray, PhD

Assistant Professor, McGovern
Center for Humanities and Ethics

Director, McGovern Center,
Medical Humanities Scholarly Concentration

Bruce D. White, DO, JD

Professor of Clinical Medical Education

University of Tennessee College of Medicine, Nashville

Click here or register at:
supportAHN.org/AHNClinicalEthics

CME/CEU credits available.