Course overview and intended audience

The course is intended for advanced clinicians (physicians, nurses, pharmacists, and allied health care professionals) who practice classic hematology, medical oncology, radiation oncology, surgical oncology, and/or stem cell/cellular therapy.

In this course, clinicians will:

- Discuss classic hematological disorders.
- Describe epidemiology, etiology, pathophysiology, differential diagnosis, diagnostic testing, treatment modalities, outcomes of anemia, myeloproliferative disorders, and pregnancy-related hematological disorders.
- Distinguish thrombotic disorders and other immune-mediated cytopenias.
- Summarize classic hematology testing.
- Explain porphyrias and the various types and classifications.
- Develop knowledge and skills to optimize care for patients with classic hematological conditions.

Accreditation

This course NCPD can be applied to the ILNA blueprint for ONCC certifications. You can attend any session or day of this course and receive contact hours. Final CE and CME hours pending.

AHN Allegheny General Hospital is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing education for physicians.

Allegheny General Hospital designates this live activity for a maximum of 11.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in this activity.

AHN West Penn Hospital is approved as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

After completion of the live course, enduring materials will be available until the next available course.
